

Gender and Incarceration Symposium

Friday, October 14, 2016

Law School Common

Blake Law Center

Western New England University

Please join us for an exciting dialogue about challenges and injustices faced by incarcerated individuals.

This event is free and open to the public.

Dinner will be served.

11:00 a.m.- 12:00 noon

Continental Breakfast and Coffee

12:00 noon-12:40 p.m.

Professor Jen Manion, Amherst College

12:45-1:25 p.m.

Rachel Roth, Scholar, Consultant, Activist, Co-author of Breaking Promises: Violations of the Massachusetts Pregnancy Standards and Anti-Shackling Law

1:30-2:10 p.m.

Carol Strickman, Legal Services for Prisoners with Children

2:20-3:00 p.m.

Professor Gabriel Arkles, Northeastern University

3:05-3:45 p.m.

Dr. Terry A. Kupers, Institute Professor at The Wright Institute and Distinguished Life Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association

3:50-4:30 p.m.

Professor Brenda V. Smith, Washington College of Law at American University

4:40-5:40 p.m.

Panel With All Speakers

6:00-7:30 p.m.

Dinner reception. Drinks will be served.

The Gender and Incarceration Symposium will feature an interdisciplinary discussion related to contemporary issues facing incarcerated individuals, such as parental rights of incarcerated people, treatment of transgender inmates, sexuality-based segregation, sexual violence, pregnancy, solitary confinement, and the intersection of race and gender in confinement.

RSVP not required, but appreciated, to: symposiumeditor.wne@gmail.com.

For additional and updated information, including speaker biographies and discussion descriptions, please visit the Western New England Law Review Facebook page or visit www1.wne.edu/law/law-review/news--events.cfm.

WESTERN NEW ENGLAND
LAW REVIEW

Sponsored by the Western New England Law Review and the Clason Speaker Series